DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. In response to the Amendment received on February 10, 2006, the examiner has carefully considered the amendments. The examiner acknowledges the cancellation of claims 23-29, 32-34, 37-39, and 42-44.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments, see amendment, filed February 10, 2006, with respect to claims 1-43 have been fully considered and are partially persuasive. The rejection of claims 23-24, 27-28, and 32-33 under 35 USC 102(b) as being anticipated by Asawa et al (JP 54-052690) is moot since applicant has cancelled these claims. The provisional rejection of claims 1-7, 10-12, 15-17, 20-21 and 23-29, 32-34, 37-39, and 42-44 under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over USPGPUB 2005/010749) in view of JP 54-052690 is withdrawn since applicant has submitted the required evidence which disqualified USPG PUB 2005/0107490 as prior art under 35 USC 103(c).

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 1-7, 10-12, 15-17, and 20-22 are allowed.

4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicant's amendment to the claims, which recites that the second pendent group includes Br distinguishes the instantly claimed invention over the prior art. The closest prior art made of record, Asawa et al, teaches methods of making crosslinked polymers from highly fluorinated fluoropolymers comprising a backbone derived from tetrafluoroethylene monomers, a first -SO₂X pendent group, and a second iodine pendent group. There is no express teaching and/or fair suggestion to lead one of ordinary skill in the art to make a crosslinked polymer from the method of the closest prior art using a fluoropolymer having a tetrafluoroethylene derived backbone, a first -SO₂X pendent group, and a second Br pendent group. Accordingly the instantly claimed invention is deemed allowable in view of the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
